Skills: Introduces Microsoft Word

Materials: Microsoft Word

Activity: Use Microsoft Word for Language Experience Stories.

Note to Instructors

The Language Experience Approach is a process that uses the student's own words to create his or her own reading material. Ask questions to help prompt a story if necessary. Once you have typed and then read the story, hold on to it. You can use it over and over again. Your student can learn sight words from this, or identify certain letters, or rearrange it and listen to it again. Soon your student will know the story well enough to read it.
